Introduction

This statement outlines the commitment of the staff, Governors and Trustees to promote equality within the school community. This involves tackling the barriers that could lead to unequal outcomes so that there is equality of access, and the diversity within the school community is celebrated and valued.

We believe that equality at our school should permeate all aspects of school life and is the responsibility of every member of the school and wider community. Every member of the school community should feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth. At Benjamin Britten School, equality is a key principle for treating all people the same, irrespective of their gender, ethnicity, disability, religious beliefs/faith tradition, sexual orientation, age or any other of the protected characteristics (Equalities Act 2010). This also extends to students affected by home circumstances, for example, young carers and those from low income families.

This statement has been drawn up as a result of consultation with staff, students, parents, stakeholders, Governors and Trustees and has been shared with the whole school community.

The school aims to meet its obligations under the public sector equality duty by having due regard to the need to:

- Eliminate discrimination and other conduct that is prohibited by the Equality Act 2010

Equality Objectives Progress Report

Introduction

This report outlines the commitment of the staff, Governors and Trustees to promote equality within the school community. This involves tackling the barriers that could lead to unequal outcomes so that there is equality of access, and the diversity within the school community is celebrated and valued.

We believe that equality at our school should permeate all aspects of school life and is the responsibility of every member of the school and wider community. Every member of the school community should feel safe, secure, valued and of equal worth. At Benjamin Britten School, equality is a key principle for treating all people the same, irrespective of their gender, ethnicity, disability, religious beliefs/faith tradition, sexual orientation, age or any other of the protected characteristics (Equalities Act 2010). This also extends to students affected by home circumstances, for example, young carers and those from low income families.

Objectives are reviewed every four years.

| Objective 1: All students to meet FFT estimates and target grades, including students with SEN and physical/ mental ill health. The following synopsis is based on data and analysis currently available for KS4 in 2025 |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|

Our progress and attainment outcomes for all children remains above regional and in line with national outcomes.

For 2025 45.5% of children achieved a Grade 5 or above in English and maths GCSEs.

63.4% of children achieved a Grade 4 or above in English and maths GCSEs.

For disadvantaged students, 26.4% achieved a Grade 5 or above in English and maths GCSEs and 47.2% a Grade 4 or above in English and maths GCSEs. Strong Progress for SEND Pupils (Including EHCP). Published Progress 8 data 2024 demonstrates that SEND pupils, including those with the most complex needs, achieve significantly above national levels EHCP P8 2024 BBMA 0.15, National -1.13.

Objective 2: Students with protected characteristics are integrated as part of the school community.

We aim to engender a sense of community and belonging, and to offer new opportunities to learners who may have experienced previous difficulties. This does not mean that we will treat all learners in the same way, but that we will respond to learners in ways that take into account their varied life experiences and needs. We believe that educational inclusion is about equal opportunities for all learners, whatever their age, gender, demographic group, ethnicity, additional need, attainment and background. We pay particular attention to the provision for, and the achievement of, different groups of learners:

- Students from families that are financially disadvantaged (PP - Pupil Premium)
- Students who arrive with below nationally expected ability in any area (LAPs)
- Boys or Girls
- Students from minority faiths, ethnicities, travellers, asylum seekers, refugees
- Students who have English as an additional language (EAL)
- Students who have Special Educational Needs or a Disability (SEND)
- Students who are Gifted and Talented (G&T)
- Students who are Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual or Transgender (LGBT)
- Students who are Looked After Children (LAC)
- Young carers, sick children, children from families under stress

Supporting the whole child

We encourage our children to have the courage to follow their convictions, to challenge injustice, to persevere in order to succeed, and to remain steadfast in the face of adversity. We place the highest importance on the safety and well-being of every student and are committed to creating a supportive and nurturing environment.

We promote a culture in which students feel confident speaking openly and honestly about their concerns, their emotions, and any worries they may have about school or their personal lives.

Our strong pastoral care system—comprising tutors, heads of year, and a wider support team ensures that students always have someone to turn to for guidance and reassurance.

In response to the impact of Covid, we further strengthened our provision, recognising the growing need to prioritise well-being. We increased the availability and scope of support from a fully trained, registered, and supervised counsellor to assist those particularly affected during that period. This enhanced support remains in place, and we now work with two external counsellors to continue meeting the needs of our students.

Objective 3: Raise the attainment of girls

Our boys' GCSE results buck the national trend, exceeding both the national average and our girls in key measures. While GCSEs typically show a gender gap favouring girls, 47.4% of boys achieved a Grade 5 or above in English and Maths (compared with 43.8% of girls), and 66.7% achieved a Grade 4 or above (compared with 60.3% of girls).

We are also addressing post-Covid challenges affecting some girls, including higher anxiety and lower attendance. Targeted strategies include enhanced pastoral and counselling support, mentoring and peer networks, close attendance monitoring, well-being workshops, and active parental engagement. These measures ensure every student has the confidence, resilience, and support to thrive academically and personally.

Objective 4: All students have access to extra-curricular opportunities irrespective of parents' ability to pay

As well as ensuring our children succeed in exams, we aim to develop character, compassion and service. Throughout their time at Benjamin Britten School, our children are expected to contribute to our school community and to society, e.g. through our Britten 200. We want our children to try new things, to persist in the face of difficulty and to become resilient in overcoming obstacles.

The rich academic and extracurricular opportunities offered at the school helps to develop pupils who are bright, engaged and have a keen sense of responsibility for their community and wider world. Our busy calendar of regular and special events play a fundamental role in giving our curriculum its vibrant, three dimensional character helping to shape our children's decisions and ambitions for the future. Our extensive enrichment activities helps our children to develop hobbies, interests and apply curriculum concepts. With this in mind, we provide a breadth of opportunities and experiences which seek to help our children become confident, well-rounded and ambitious young adults. Our enrichment programme is overflowing with opportunities to try something new and develop new skills.

Our children and their parents are provided with a timetable of extracurricular activities for their year group, which includes both lunch time activities and after school activities. These are displayed in their registration rooms and on the school's digital notice boards. Staff actively promote participation and encourage students to try new experiences.

Our children are offered a range of trips with the school subsidising trips that are essential to curricular enrichment, including those that are closely aligned to the curriculum. We endeavour to offer all children equal opportunities to participate fully in school life, including after-school activities and school trips.

Our Pupil Premium spending on trips, clubs, music tuition, dance and other activities is outlined in our Pupil Premium report. We carefully monitor participation through digital registers and maintain detailed records of the number of trips offered by each year group and the proportion of pupils taking part. Particular attention is given to the engagement of pupils who receive Pupil Premium funding or Free School Meals. Following feedback from our parent Perception Survey, we continue to review and refine our systems for tracking costs and monitoring participation to ensure disadvantaged pupils are fully supported.
